

Course name: Construction Documentation

No. of ECTS: 3

Aim:

Learning about formal requirements of delivering project, exploitation and acceptance documentation of a construction facility and making of each element of a complete construction documentation in the entire construction process.

Course content:

- Formal requirements before the initialization of constructing process;
- Construction project and executive design. The existing scope and parts of project documentation – detailed discussion on its content, formal requirements;
- Additional studies and documents to the project documentation;
- Construction documentation, acceptance documentation and release to service documentation, exploitation documentation – role of an architect in creating these;
- Professional responsibility and liability related to creators of documentation in constructing process. Warranty and guarantee of a designer.

Skills:

- knowledge of formal requirements before the initiation of constructing process;
- knowledge of rules of performing complete construction documentation and exploitation documentation of a building;
- ability to get familiar with actual provisions, legal acts, norms related to constructing process and ability to perform each element of a complete construction documentation in the whole process;
- awareness of a necessity to actualize the knowledge on formal requirements of a construction documentation.

Form of teaching:

Projekt